sailor was a strong favorite in the betting at odds of 7 to 10.

Smith's aggressiveness culminated in a clean-cut right to the chin, and his superior all-around work in all but two or three rounds did much to pave his way to victory. Pelkey proved a keen disappointment.

The fight opened with the Gunner forcing matters with snappy lefts to the face; but Pelkey, making his best showing, drove in several hard rights to the body and face that staggered Smith, and sent him to his corner bleeding from the mouth. The crowd cheered the Canadian, and bets were made at evens that he would win.

In the second round Smith scored heavily to the jaw, and in the third Pelkey clouted his man viciously over the kidneys. In the sixth Smith fought the Canadian to a standstill with left uppercuts, sending him to his corner dazed.

After thirty seconds fighting in the fifteenth round. Smith teinted with his left, then swung his right, landing on Pelkey's jaw. Pelkey dropped. Mechanically he struggled to his feet at the second cone before the belic.

Round 7-Pelkey ducked a left and clinch-ed. He gave the Gunner as rap with the right when breaking. The Gunner kept rush theel.

Round'10—They rushed into a clinch, When they broke the Gunner tried all kinds of swings, and Pelkey ducked safely. The Gunner grazed the chin with the right, and Pelkey went in and clinched again, Pelkey reached the face with a straight left and ducked a hard right. The Gunner was more confident of the pair at this stage, Pelkey sent home a straight left on the chin at the confident of the pair at this stage, Pelkey sent home a straight left on the chine. Smith caught Pelkey with the left as Pelkey ducked. They exchanged right body blows, and the Gunner swung a stiff left on the bridge of the nose. In the clinch that followed Smith chopped Pelkey twice with the right, and then drove a hard left into the stomlongs. Shains left body punches burt Pelkey, and the Gunner's right uppercuts, which took the Canadian under the chin, were also damasing blows.

Round ft-They closed in, and Pelkey get to the body with the right. The clinches were frequent, and the referce kept ordering them to break. Smith kept landing body joits, and Pelkey was inclined to hold. Pelkey was inclined to hold. Pelkey used his right overhand chop, but it did very little damage. Pelkey escaped Smith's rights by ducking. Smith caught him a punishing left joit in the chin, coming to a clinch, and then rapped him a number of times with the right. Pelkey held tightly. Smith swung a left on the mouth, and Pelkey came back with a short right. A brace of hurd left swings sent Polkey to the roopes. Pelkey gathered himself together and met Smith with a straight left.

Round 15-They exchanged lefts and rights. The Gunner led with his left and caught Pelkey a full left swing on the jew, knocking him under the topes. Pelkey rolled over on his shoulder and arose slowly. As he straightened up Smith met him. Pelkey tried to duck and clinch, and the Gunner sent him to the foor, face downward, with a right chop on the back of the neck. Pelkey's knoes were under him at the time, but he straightened out on his stomach. He heard the timekeeper calling off the seconds, and tried to pull himself together and rise slowly. He was in bad shape, and was still crouching and trying to stand erect when counted out. Referse Griffin then stepped between the men and awarded the victory to Smith.
